Ms. Gilot is a resident of Elmont, N.Y.

The Ruth E. Stafford Scholarship is granted to nursing students who are currently advancing their skills and knowledge in the nursing profession and are dedicated to providing high quality care to residents of long-term healthcare facilities. The scholarship is administered by the Foundation for Quality Care, Inc., a non-profit educational and research foundation affiliated with NYSHFA.

“The need for qualified nursing staff in New York State is more critical than ever,” said Richard J. Herrick, President and CEO of NYSHFA. “This scholarship was established to assist nurses in their education. It is vitally important to provide support to encourage individuals to pursue a rewarding career in nursing.”

“Guerda has shown herself to be a dedicated employee who strives to meet the needs of both our staff and residents,” said Jill Smoller, administrator of Glen Cove Center for Nursing & Rehabilitation. “Her dedication, skills and compassion will serve her well as a nurse in the long term care setting.”
